

17th International Conference on Monte Carlo and Quasi-Monte Carlo Methods in Scientific Computing

Monday 8 – Friday 12 2026

Kings Building, University of Edinburgh

VENUE

The conference will take place on the King's Buildings campus of the University of Edinburgh. We will use the Michael Swann, James Clerk Maxwell and Nucleus buildings for the conference. You can find more details of the venue location and campus map here.

The conference website has also been updated with detailed instructions on accessing the James Clerk Maxwell building, the main conference venue.

REGISTRATION

Registration will take place in the level 3 foyer (one floor up from the main entrance) of the James Clerk Maxwell building. Detailed directions are available on the conference website.

Registration is available every day Monday through Thursday, starting at 8.30am on Monday.

PROGRAMME

The final version of the programme is available on the conference website. There are a small number of changes from the previously published programme. Anyone affected by the changes will have received an email from the organisers, or requested the changes themselves or via their session organisers.

Any cancellations or further changes to the programme will be announced during the conference.

SPEAKERS

Speakers are expected to use their own laptops. There are also blackboards in all of the rooms. There will be local organisers in the room to help with the technical set-up.

If you are presenting a contributed talk, please check the programme to see if you have been assigned to chair your session. If you are unable to chair a session that you have been assigned to, please contact the organisers at mcqmc2026@ed.ac.uk asap.

CONFERENCE DINNER

The dinner will be at National Museum of Scotland, 18:00 – 22:00, Wednesday 10th June. If you have replied to the dinner RSVP, you will receive an email regarding the dinner a day before the dinner.

ETA & VISAS

From April 2025, all visitors to the UK who do not need a visa for short stays and who do not already have a UK immigration status must obtain an ETA. Guidance can be found here. If you already have a visa to enter the UK, you do not need to apply for an ETA. Please note, ICMS staff are not able to provide any advice on ETA or UK visa requirements.
